The St Francis Links has been host to two major South African golfing events over the past month, from April-mid May, plus it has held its own highly contested, Championships.

First off in April was the National Senior and Super-Senior Division 'A' Inter-Provincial Championships which was so professionally handled that the entire room of more than 100 golfers to a man stood up to give the Links management a standing ovation.

The start of this prestigious event had fairly settled when the Links hosted its own 12th Annual St Francis Links Club Championships which many players, tongue in cheek, said put them under more pressure than those playing the Masters - since all local golfers want to be the Links champ! This year's two winners were a delightful Dr Lynn Slogorov and Brent Vos who won the Women's and Men's divisions respectively.

Then a week later more than 200 senior women arrived in St Francis Links to play in the South African Senior Women tournament. Their arrival, on the eve almost of this paper going to print, has meant we have been unable to capture everything in this print edition. However, please visit the St Francis Chronicle Info & News group on Newspaper Page to get all the happenings at the Links.
